

I.N.U. QUITTING DREDGE PLAN, COUNCIL TOLD

City's Restrictions In Matter Considered Prohibitive

C. J. McLean, engineer for the Illinois Northern Utilities Company was authority for a statement at the close of last evening's session of the city council, to the effect that the proposed dredging program outlined for Rock river this summer has been abandoned. The announcement came following the adoption of a resolution by the members of the council by a four to one vote. Commissioner Louis Schumm casting the negative ballot when the roll was called.

A lengthy resolution provided that the I. N. U. Co., agree to protect the piers and abutments of the Galena avenue bridge, that the channel on the north side of the river be dredged to a width of at least 100 feet and not to less than one foot depth of water at extreme low water, and that sufficient outlets be dredged to the mouths of all sewers. Under these conditions the council favored the issuance of a permit by the War Department to allow the improvement to be made.

Expense Prohibitive.
The engineer representing the utilities company informed the council that he could not obligate the company he represents to agree to the resolution, adding that he had not believed that any dredging of the north side would be necessary. He indicated that a channel 40 to 50 feet in width would be adequate in his opinion and that in order to conform to the city's requirements it would be necessary to dredge twice the depth asked in the resolution in order to float the equipment, and that the added expense would be prohibitive to the company.

Commissioner Charles E. Miller explained briefly his attitude in voting for the resolution.

"When this proposition was presented to the council it was extremely vague and after several meetings we were able to find out what it was all about. Rock river at Dixon has been one of our beauty spots and we hope to retain it as such. Engineer Waters of the War Department informed us at Friday's meeting that it was unusual to issue a permit to dredge within 100 feet of a shore line and also that the same benefits could be accomplished by dredging down the center of the stream. As the result we have stated our position in replying to the War Department as embodied in this resolution. After calling the vote of the commission, which stood four to one for the adoption of the resolution, Engineer McLean informed the council that the project was considered abandoned.

The regular semi-monthly bills against the city amounting to $1,763.93 were read and ordered paid.
The board of local improvements met briefly following the council session and adopted a resolution originating a scheme under local improvement ordinance, No. 255, providing for the construction of a sanitary sewer, 300 feet in length, running east and west on Ninth street at Nachusa avenue. Attorney John J. Armstrong was appointed by Mayor Palmer, as commissioner to spread the assessment.

Talk Street Sweeper.
A. W. Taylor, special representative of the Elgin Corporation, appeared before the council outlining the advantages of the city's owning a modern street sweeping machine. Following the regular session, members of the council viewed motion pictures showing the Elgin street sweeping machine in operation. This was followed by an instructive talk by the representative who answered questions of the commissioners.

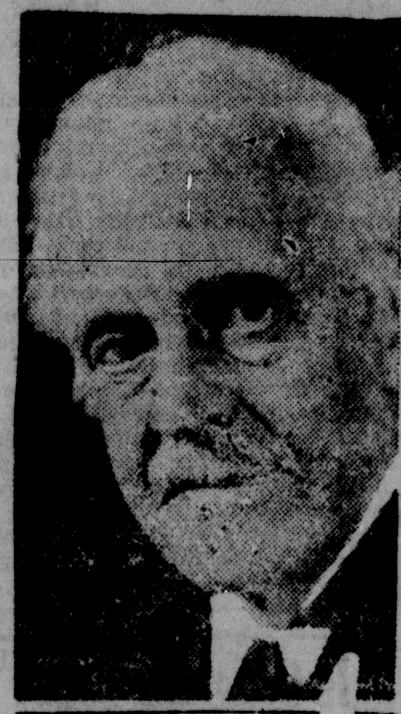

There has been some talk among the commissioners of the necessity for a street sweeping machine being added to the city's equipment in the street department. This machine could be used daily in the cleaning of the streets in the business district and each week could clean all of the paved streets in the city. The commissioners were very favorably impressed with the Elgin machine which was explained to them last evening, but no action was taken toward placing an order for one of them.

Capitol Policemen Must Pay For Goods

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—(UP)—Members of the local police department who persist in serving themselves in business establishments, without paying for the merchandise they take, will be subject to immediate discharge, Hal M. Smith, recently appointed Chief of Police, has announced.

Smith made the announcement yesterday following receipt of complaints from various merchants throughout the city that some of the policemen were helping themselves to merchandise without even offering to pay for it.

Big Demand Is Made For Seats At Ring Show Friday Night

The demand for reserved seats for Friday evening's boxing show sponsored by the Dixon post of the American Legion is far exceeding that for any former entertainment and the outlook is for a packed house when the first bout is called Friday evening at Downing hall. The card will bring together some of the best amateur boxers in the northern section of the state and in the six battles a half dozen contenders for honors in the recent Golden Glove contest at Chicago will be seen in action.

Two of the matches are challenge bouts. Ernest Tonelli, Golden Glove holder from Marseilles, will step into the ring again to oppose Tony Capone at 135 pounds. Capone, the Freepoint speed boxer, met Tonelli at the January show in this city when the latter was finishing his training for the Chicago challenge.

The second challenge match will see Joe Sharkey, the Dixon barber, stepping into the roped arena to oppose Joe Jordan of Rockford at 126 pounds. Sharkey challenged Jordan when he appeared before the local fans at the January show and created a very favorable impression. Harry Milne of Rockford will referee all of the six bouts on Friday night's program.

Additional Players Needed for Boys Band

A call for eight or ten additional members to the Dixon Boys band to play reed or wind instruments has been issued. It is believed that with the building up of this department of the organization the band will be very well balanced in instrumentation. The brass and drums sections are well balanced and about ten additional wood wind instruments are expected to be secured very soon.

Members of the band are showing a renewed interest with the campaign for funds with which to finance the organization for another year. The special band committee from the Kiwanis club, composed of O. M. Rogers, L. E. Jacobson and J. L. Glassburn, hopes to be able to complete its canvass within the next ten days. Many have responded with substantial cash donations, but the amount received is far from being sufficient to support the organization in the coming season which promises to be by far the most active since the band was formed.

Dixon Debaters Lost To Rochelle

The Dixon debating team composed of Winston Smith, Miss Mary Hamilton and Wilson Walker lost to Rochelle's debating team at the new high school yesterday afternoon. About 50 students and faculty members attended the interesting debate upon the subject: "Resolved, That the Chain Store System is Opposed to the Best American Business Interests." The Rochelle team was composed of Miss Helen Jones, Fred Harris and Johnston Jeffries. Miss Mildred Happe of Rochelle and Milton Seelander of the local faculty were the coaches. Dixon debated the affirmative side and Rochelle the negative.

The Dixon negative team composed of Miss Eleanor Bartholomew, Robert Lesage and Robert Redfern went to Rochelle where they engaged the affirmative teams of that city, composed of Miss Margaret Etnyre, Robert Stevens and John Tilton in debate. The entire high school enrollment of 300 students attended Rochelle debate.

SUNDAY SHOWS WIN

Princeton, Ill., March 19.—(UP)—A city ordinance prohibiting Sunday theatres was repealed yesterday by a majority of 115 votes. The vote cast was 978 for repeal of the prohibiting ordinance and 863 for the continuance of the law. As a result Sunday shows will be legal starting next week.

Considerable Sum Needed To Insure Route 89 Paving

Arrangements have been made for completion of the right of way on Route 89, and it is expected the contracts will be let soon, but the settlement is contingent upon the raising of a considerable sum of money which property owners along the right of way demand in payment for what is known as "borrow pit" where top soil to finish the grading is secured. If the money necessary for these payments is not raised the state will not go ahead with its work and the territory along the route from Dixon to Princeton will have to go at least another year without having the road put in service.

A committee of citizens is making an effort to raise the necessary fund in time to insure the completion of the road this year.

EARL OF BALFOUR VETERAN BRITISH STATESMAN DEAD

Distinguished Leader Of Britain's Life Died This Morning

Woking, Surrey, England, March 19.—(AP)—The Earl of Balfour, veteran British statesman, died here at 8:45 A. M. today in a room at the home of his brother, the Honorable Gerald Balfour. A window at his bedside overlooked one of the most beautiful scenes in Surrey.

The end came peacefully to the statesman who was in his 82nd year. He had been distressingly ill for a long time with laryngitis, and came here after an improvement in his condition to convalesce. He had several setbacks however and was never able to return to his home at Whittingehame, Prestonskirk, East Lothian.

From the time he entered Parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life he figured as an important factor in British politics. He visited America as head of the British Commission in 1917 and was a member of the British delegation to the Washington arms conference in 1922.

He was most famous perhaps for the so-called Balfour note in which Great Britain renounced all past claims in continental Europe, and by the Balfour Declaration of British policy in Palestine, which set that country aside as a home for repatriated Jews.

Prime Minister MacDonald informed almost at once of the Earl's death declared: "It is the end of a long useful life and the whole nation will unite in expressing its regret and in paying its tribute."

Arthur James Balfour was created the first Earl of Balfour in 1922, and holds besides the title Viscount of Whittingehame.

Arthur James Balfour, former Prime Minister of England, for nearly 50 years was a prominent figure in British political life. A nephew of Lord Salisbury, he was once characterized as "an aristocrat who entered Parliament to protect the privileges of his caste and to taste the joys of intellectual mastery." Philosopher as well as statesman, it has been said of him that "it was never so happy as when discussing some new guess at the nature of matter or of the nature of the soul."

As First Lord of the Admiralty in the coalition war cabinet (1915-16), Foreign Secretary (1916-19), head of the British Mission to America (1917), British delegate to the Paris peace conference (1919), and to important post bellum deliberations (1920-21) at San Remo, Hythe, Brussels, San Sebastian, Rome, London, Geneva and elsewhere, he took a notable part in the war and the efforts at reconstruction, in settling reparations, boundary, racial and similar problems.

During Balfour's term as First Lord of the Admiralty, the German air raiders were most active in their attacks on London and English coast towns, as a result of which he was severely criticized. Interpellated in the House of Commons, he admitted that "mistakes" had been made in the British aerial defenses. Newspapers assailed the former Prime minister and demanded a complete reorganization of the Admiralty board. Soon after, Premier Asquith resigned and within a fortnight, David Lloyd George, at the head of a coalition ministry, had succeeded him and named Balfour as his Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

GUARD LEFT TOO SOON

Streator, Ill., March 19.—(AP)—Suspicious of two men who entered his store yesterday afternoon to look at some odd sized suits Harry Baskin detailed two of his employees to remain in guard in his clothing store last night. Borrowing pistols from the police, the two clerks stayed on guard until 4 A. M. and then went home. When the store was opened this morning $600 worth of suits were missing. The thieves had gained entrance by crawling over a transom.

ENUMERATORS TO TAKE CENSUS ARE NAMED BY GANNON

Government Estimate Of 11,000 Population for Dixon City

Hon. Martin J. Gannon, Supervisor of the Census for the 13th Congressional district, today announced the list of his enumerators and the Telegraph presents herewith the list for Lee and Ogle Counties, together with the following letter:

"Enclosed is a list of people selected as enumerators for the 1930 Census in Stephenson County. This office is mailing you the list so that you may publish same for the information of people throughout the county. "It is with sincere regret that this office finds it impossible to appoint all of those who applied. More than 400 applications have been received and no doubt there will be many disappointed because they have not been chosen. The majority of applicants returned excellent test schedules so that it has been with extreme difficulty that we make this final announcement. Responsibility for appointment rests entirely with me as the Supervisor of this District. Any criticism that may be offered should be directed to me, however, I do not feel that any just criticism is to be made, in that appointments have been made because of neatness and correctness of test schedules received by this office.

"I take this opportunity of thanking you and your valuable paper for all the many kindnesses which you have shown during my tenure of office."

The estimate of 11,000 apportioned to Dixon is based on an estimate by the government of a population of 11,000 for Dixon. It is found that the task is too great to be finished in a given time the number of enumerators will be augmented by the naming of additional helpers.

All enumerators in town with a population of 1,500 or more will be paid at the rate of 4 cents per person enumerated. In villages less than 1,500 the rate is 5 cents per head. In the country the rate is 6 cents per person and fifty cents per farm schedule. There is also an unemployment listing with payment of 2 cents per person.

Although the population within the city limits of Dixon will be restricted to probably 11,000 or 12,000, the population of the immediate vicinity will probably total 17,000 or greater.

The enumerators for Lee and Ogle counties are:

Mother Of Mrs. Wm. Maloney Died While On Operating Table

Mrs. Charles W. Etchison of Sterling, mother of Mrs. William Maloney of 417 East Sixth street, this city, passed away during an operation Tuesday morning at the Sterling public hospital, at the age of 59 years. Funeral services will be conducted from the First Presbyterian church at Sterling Friday afternoon with interment in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Etchison was born May 22, 1871 at Virginia, Ill., and moved to Sterling 12 years ago where she has since made her home. She was preceded in death by one son George and a daughter, Helen Grace. She had been in failing health since last December necessitating her removal to the hospital on two previous occasions. She was a member of the Sterling camp, Royal Neighbors of America, and of the Rebekahs and of the First Presbyterian church. She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, Charles W. Etchison, and the following children: Mrs. W. H. Iversen of Clinton, Ia., Mrs. Jess E. McLeod and Mrs. Orville Hackman of Virginia, Ill., William C. Etchison of Donna, Texas, Mrs. Elmer Miller of Rock Falls, Mrs. William Maloney of Dixon, Mrs. Leroy McBride of Sterling and Kenneth, Katherine and Howard at home. One sister, Mrs. John M. Bierhaus of Virginia, Ill., also survives together with a host of friends and relatives who will mourn her passing.

"My Dear Irving:
Thank you for sending me your new book. I shall read it with a great deal of pleasure.

"In the late campaign I found myself in a very awkward situation. I could not issue any publication during it, because of my being on the bench, and yet the New York World published my anti-prohibition letter written to Lincoln (a dry of New Haven) before the adoption of the amendment, and then nobody seemed to take the trouble to publish my speech at Yale given after the amendment was adopted. But the result is glorious and points the only way that we have to work out the problem presented. The solution requires a great deal of time and patience. The habits of an important section of a congested part of the country can not be changed overnight or in years. The reform and the adaptation of society to that at which the amendment aims must be gradual. The temptation of corruption will drag it out. While looking ahead at the amendment I despaired of any success. I really think that it is possible, if we keep at it, to achieve a satisfactory result. The persistence with which the people maintain in Congress a two-thirds majority in both Houses gives me much hope, and I am inclined to think that this will wear down the moderate wets to a consciousness that the only solution is pressure in favor of enforcement.

"I see that the wets claim that the election was not a prohibition victory. Well, one can not argue with that view and can only let those who believe it continue to believe it."

Taft's letter was written on the stationery of the Supreme Court of the United States.

CEMENT FACTORY TO RESUME WORK TOMORROW MORN

Expensive And Towering Stack To Do Away With Dust Clouds

The Medusa Portland Cement Company's Dixon plant, which has been closed down for a month for general repairs, overhauling and the installation of new equipment, will resume full operation on Thursday, employing about 250 men and manufacturing approximately 6000 barrels of cement daily.

With this resumption of activity Dixon and vicinity will enjoy not only the added prosperity caused by the big cement plant payroll but will also enjoy relief from the dust nuisance. The great clouds of cement dust that have been escaping from the stacks at the plant have been controlled and reduced to a minimum by the expensive tower the company has erected for this purpose.

Big Dust Eliminator
This 300-foot stack has an inside diameter of 16 feet and is equipped with large settling chambers or dust collectors which not only prevent the dust from escaping to annoy hard-working housewives but reclaim the dust to be used in the cement.

The action of the company in building this expensive dust eliminator will be greatly appreciated by the residents of Dixon and vicinity. It is hoped that in time all of the local causes of smoke and dirt will be eliminated.

The Medusa Company has sufficient raw material on its property to keep the plant in operation for many years and the product of the Dixon plant is said to lead that of all other plants in quality.

The "safety first" campaign at the Medusa plant has been very satisfactory in its results and the last 181 days have a record of no time-lost accidents.

Court House Square Improvement Talked

The building committee of the board of supervisors is considering plans for the beautifying of the court house grounds this spring. Landscaping gardeners have been requested to submit plans which may be acted upon at the special organization meeting to be held in April. During the past year a number of trees, which had reached a dangerous stage of decomposition, have been removed and all of the trees have been trimmed.

The committee is planning to have decorative flower beds set out this spring which would add materially to the beauty of the property. It is considered that there are ample trees in the square and that the beauty of the grounds would be greatly enhanced by the laying out of beds of flowers in decorative designs. The committee is also investigating the cost of having the exterior of the building cleaned by a sand blast system during the spring months.

Coffey Member Fire Dept. For 20 Years

Fire Chief Thomas Coffey has completed 21 years of service as a member of the Dixon fire department and members of the city council in their regular weekly session last evening were presented with a box of cigars from the Chief in celebration of the occasion.

Chief Coffey entered the service as a member of the fire department, March 15, 1909. On Dec. 5, 1919 he was appointed chief of the fire department in which capacity he has served since in an efficient and capable manner, during which time he has at all times been active in keeping the fire fighting equipment of Dixon as well as his department up to a high standard of efficiency. Chief Coffey is receiving the congratulations of his hosts of friends on his length of service and best wishes for many more years of active service.

TAFT CONVERTED TO PROHIBITION LETTER PROVES

Brother of the Late Chief Justice Refutes Claim Of Wets

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 19.—(UP)—

The late Chief Justice William Howard Taft was converted to prohibition after its adoption, his brother Horace D. Taft, who looks very much like him, only thinner and taller, told the House Judiciary committee in the prohibition hearing today.

The brother's white mustache, exactly like that of the former Chief Justice, bristled with indignation at the recent efforts of the wets to establish William Howard Taft as an anti-prohibitionist.

He read a letter from his brother written to Irving Fisher, Yale Professor, Nov. 21, 1922.

Previously Taft had been regarded as dubious of prohibition because of a newspaper article written before the 18th amendment was adopted. The late Chief Justice's letter said:

"My Dear Irving:
Thank you for sending me your new book. I shall read it with a great deal of pleasure.

"In the late campaign I found myself in a very awkward situation. I could not issue any publication during it, because of my being on the bench, and yet the New York World published my anti-prohibition letter written to Lincoln (a dry of New Haven) before the adoption of the amendment, and then nobody seemed to take the trouble to publish my speech at Yale given after the amendment was adopted. Dixon Man Elected Vice Pres. Cleaners

A. M. Potter of this city was elected to the vice presidency of the Rock River Association of Cleaners & Dryers at a meeting Monday evening at the Lincoln Tavern in Sterling where the organization was perfected. A 6:30 dinner was enjoyed by the cleaners and dyers of Lee and Whiteside counties after which the officers of the new organization were elected. John Klenschmidt of Sterling was elected president; A. M. Potter of Dixon, vice president and Clarence J. Hendricks of Morrison, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the organization is to create a better feeling among the various cleaning and dyeing establishments in the Rock River valley. It is also intended to work out various problems with which each member is confronted, and to work toward the improvement of service to the communities.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Nachusa Tavern in this city April 21 at which time it is expected that several new members will be added.

Trial Of Indian Women Is Started

Courtroom, Buffalo, N. Y., March 19.—(UP)—Two Indian women from out of the hills where the remnants of the Senecas dwell went on trial for their lives today, charged with murder involving witchcraft that is as ancient as the tribe.

Lia Jimerson, accused of killing Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, nationally known wax work artist, was led into court today through a crowd that clamored outside the diminutive room where Judge F. Brett Thorn had barred the public until a jury is chosen.

Nancy Bowen, who will be tried on the same charge, was not in court. Marchand is in jail as a material witness, and District Attorney Guy Moore has threatened to bring murder charges against him if evidence is discovered to justify the accusation.

In 1899, only 54 gallons of gasoline were derived from a 42-gallon barrel of crude oil run through American refineries. Today 15.8 gallons of gasoline are obtained.

MASONS TO AMBOY

A delegation of Dixon Masons motored to Amboy last evening and attended the annual banquet and ceremonies of the order of the Sword of Bunker Hill. Delegations were present from Peru, Mendota and Dixon and more than a hundred enjoyed the banquet at 6:30 at the Masonic Temple. A class of 35 candidates received the Sword of Bunker Hill degree.

ATTENDED FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Marth motored to Mt. Carroll yesterday where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Marth's grandfather, T. J. Smith. He was born in Hagerstown, Md., in 1841 and passed away at his home in Mt. Carroll Sunday evening. Mr. Smith was a Civil war veteran, having served with the 92nd Illinois infantry for an enlistment of three years duration.

LIQUOR DESTROYED

Members of the police department poured yesterday afternoon at an exclusive affair conducted within the walls of the city hall and in all 65 receptacles were emptied of their contents which passed into the sewer and found their way into the Hudson of the West. Jugs, cans, bottles, fruit jars and weasels, filled or partly filled with moon, alkali, third rail, tonsil syrup and canned heat lotion, representing an accumulation of the past four or five months was emptied into the sewer.

PROF. HACKER HERE

L. W. Hacker, member of the staff at the State Normal School at Normal, Ill., a candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was a Dixon caller this morning. Mr. Hacker is familiar with this section of the state since he taught school in the early years of his career at Sheffield and Princeton in Bureau County and at Durand in Winnebago County. He looks as though he could fill the job he seeks.

CASE IS CONTINUED

After taking a change of venue from the court of Justice J. O. Shaulis to Justice William Terrill's chambers this morning, Attorney H. A. Brooks, appearing for Guy Hardesty, forcefully protested the lack of jurisdiction of the court to act, and a continuance was taken until 9 o'clock Monday morning. The crowd surged on the stairs in an effort to gain entrance to the court room to hear the testimony which was not taken. Hardesty was brought back to Dixon from Fort Wadsworth, N. Y., last week to answer to two statutory charges.

Cooling Of Houses
In Summer Coming

Springfield, Ill., March 19—(UP)—Cooling of homes in summer will soon be as common as the heating of homes in winter, according to Nils T. Sellman, Consolidated Gas Company, New York, in an address before the Illinois Gas Association here today.
He declared that in New York City 18,000 homes have installed gas refrigerators for cooling purposes.
Ten per cent of the homes in Illinois wired for electric service now have electric refrigerators, J. F. Small, merchandise manager for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, said in a talk before the Illinois Electric Association.
New orders for 1930 were elected today by the three state associations. The new presidents are:
Illinois Electric Railways Association—Guy A. Richardson, Chicago Surface Lines.
Illinois Gas Association—Howard T. East, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.
Illinois State Electric Association—Oliver R. Hogue, Commonwealth Edison Company.
George W. Schwaner, Springfield, was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer of the associations.

Primo De Rivera Is Buried With Honors

Madrid, March 19—(AP)—Spain's "benevolent dictator" as former Premier Primo de Rivera was often called, was buried in a modest grave in the family plot at San Isidro cemetery today with the highest of funeral honors that King Alfonso and the Berenguer government could give.
Great crowds, massed in all directions as the solemn cortege passed, cheered for the King and Spain. The monarch attended mass in the railroad station chapel where Primo rested in state. Don Fernando Bourbon, a cousin followed the coffin as a representative of His Majesty.
Marching behind were members of the Berenguer Cabinet, foreign diplomats and highest officials of the nation, all afoot.
As the national anthem thrilled out, distant batteries fired a 21-gun salute. Army airplanes flew above the troop-lined route to the cemetery and all the honors were paid in accordance with the former Premier's full rank of Captain-General.
The passage of the funeral cortege through the streets was the occasion for enthusiastic Royalist demonstrations in marked contrast to the temper of the crowds which recently have shown Republican sympathies.

Jamaica Ginger Is Seized By Officers

Louisville, Ky., March 19—(AP)—Investigation of the 30 or more cases of partial paralysis reported in central and eastern Kentucky led federal prohibition officials today to lay the blame on sub-standard Jamaica ginger which they said has been widely distributed.
Thousands of gallons of the product belonging to four large companies, three in Kentucky and one in Cincinnati, have been seized by federal investigators from the Kentucky-Tennessee headquarters here since early in January, and eight men, officials of the companies, have been arrested. They are now under bonds totaling $25,000.
The product seized was sent to Washington for analysis, and federal officials said, chemists' reports showed it was sub-standard and "highly intoxicating with very little medicinal value." The investigation started here has since been extended to 17 states.

POPE SAYS MASS OF ATONEMENT—EXPIATION TODAY

Crusade Against Russian Godless Movement Signalized

By EDWARD A. STORER

United Press Staff Correspondent
Vatican City, March 19—(UP)—Pope Pius XI signalized the crusade of the Roman Catholic church against Soviet Russia's Godless movement, by saying a solemn mass of expiation and atonement for profanation of the church and offenses against the majesty of God in Russia.

The ceremony, which attracted thousands of pilgrims from all sections of Italy, and to which all Cardinals in Rome received special invitations, took place in the beautiful St. Peter's Basilica.
A special booklet, containing prayers and hymns appropriate to the occasion, was issued to the worshippers.
The magnificent Basilica had been prepared with wooden barricades to maintain order and to permit the great crowds, estimated at 50,000, to view the proceedings.
Every Cardinal able to attend the mass was present, with brilliantly uniformed dignitaries and many foreign envoys.
As the pope began intoning the mass, church bells of every religious edifice in Italy rang out their solemn response to his call to the Christian crusade.

Brilliant Spectacle

Knights of Malta sat in their special box, their red uniforms, reminiscent of European generals in the 19th century making a brilliant splash of color in the ensemble. Heads of the chief religious orders in Rome sat in another tribune, while the diplomatic corps were seated in a specially reserved and draped box.
Two companies of Swiss Guards were detailed to keep public order in various parts of the Basilica.
Arrival of the Pope in the church was signalized by blasts from silver trumpets, and the great congregation turned its eyes to the Chapel of the Holy Sacrament where the figure of Pius XI, high on his "Sedia Gestatoria," appeared over the heads of the people, borne by the pontifical chair-bearers.

Young Millionaire Pneumonia Victim

New York, March 19—(AP)—Paul Brown, III, 17-year-old millionaire, died of pneumonia yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Bess Maserson Brown, 75 Central Park West.
Two years ago he inherited $1,800,000 from his grandfather, Paul Brown, St. Louis sportsman and broker, who died in Colorado.
Last Saturday he came home from Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass., where he was a student, complaining of a boil on his neck. Infection set in and pneumonia developed.
His body will be taken to St. Louis for burial. His mother is the only immediate surviving relative.
One-sixth of the grandfather's estate was left to Paul Brown, III, and his half-sister Dorothy Brown, who is now on a world tour. The boy's share will revert to his half-sister under the will.

Trick Gold Fish Is Wonder Of Oak Park

Chicago, March 19—(UP)—Constable John L. Lorenz's trick gold fish was the pride of suburban Oak Park today.
The Constable kneels in front of the gold fish bowl, puffers up his lips and makes an inhaling sound. That brings the gold fish to "attention."
Lorenz then waves an index finger around the bowl and his fish begin looping the loop. Another gesture and the gold fish turns over and swims on its back. A third wave and he goes into a barrel roll.
"The latest trick is a tail spin," said the constable. "The fish and I are working on that now. We'll have it down pat by Sunday."

Censorship Of Books Will Be Continued

Washington, March 19—(UP)—Continued censorship of books and pictures imported from abroad was assured today, but a federal judge instead of a customs clerk may be the censor.

The Senate made the first certain and the second likely when without a record vote it re-wrote and adopted the Smoot tariff amendment, which if agreed to by the House will make the restrictions more drastic than now. The House merely re-enters the present law, while the Smoot amendment extends it beyond obscene matter to include any writing "advocating or urging treason, or insurrection against the United States, or containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States." The present ban on birth control devices and lottery tickets is continued.

Collapse of the campaign of Senator Cutting, Repn., N. M., against censorship, preceded the vote. The day was devoted to debate, with alleged obscenity of the classics and the futility of censorship advanced by Cutting as the chief arguments.

N. W. Engineer Meets Death In Collision

Chicago, March 19—(AP)—An engineer was killed and a score of passengers were injured in a head-on collision of the Badger State Limited and a suburban train on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad last night near Arlington Heights, a suburb.

The limited, south-bound from Minneapolis, crashed into a section of sewer pipe that had slipped from its sled as it was being towed across the tracks.
The locomotive was derailed and six cars were hurled into the ditch. The fireman and engineer jumped before the crash and saved themselves. An attempt was made to halt the on-rushing suburban train, but it was too late—the train crashed into the engine of the limited which had been thrown partially onto the parallel tracks. Only two cars of the suburban train, however, left the rails.

Ernest Salzman, brakeman in the cab with Kutner, saved his life by jumping, suffering only a lacerated scalp. Another member of the train crew, Thomas White, Woodstock, Ill., suffered a fractured leg.

Trial Nears End

Washington, March 19—(UP)—The Doherty bribery trial went into its final phases today when the defense rested its case after less than three days of testimony in behalf of the millionaire defendant.
Closing arguments will be concluded tomorrow after which the jury of nine men and three women will begin their task of deciding whether Edward L. Doherty gave former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall a $100,000 bribe in return for valuable naval oil leases.

the indictment because police had no search warrant.
Judge Schwaba, soon afterward, said he had not been informed of Diamond's gangland connections and recommended to State's Attorney Swanson that Diamond be re-indicted. This was done, but Diamond had not been re-arrested early today.
Prior to this, two convictions for carrying concealed weapons, where the arrests were made without search warrants, were obtained in the court of Judge John P. McGooty.

With the release of Diamond, however, fear was expressed by Chief of Detectives John Stege that the police drive against crime would collapse unless gunmen could be searched without warrants.

As a result, Diamond's second trial will test the police right to search known hoodlums on sight.

SHADE

THE kindest thing God ever made,
His hand of very healing laid
Upon a fevered world, is shade.
His glorious company of trees
Throw out their mantles, and on these
The dust-stained wanderer finds ease.
Green temples, closed against the heat,
Of noontime's blinding glare and heat,
Open to any pilgrim's feet.
The white road blisters in the sun;
Now, half the weary journey done,
Enter and rest, O weary one!
And feel the dew of dawn still wet
Beneath thy feet, and so forget
The burning highway's ache and fret.
This is God's hospitality,
And whose rests beneath a tree
Hath cause to thank Him gratefully.

Movie House Singers win Opera Scholarships

Chicago.—(AP)—The voices of Helen Ornstein and Lydia Mihm have won for them a year's vocal training in Italy and perhaps a career on the stage.

The young women, if they show promise, will receive a second year's training in France and Germany. An audition then will determine whether they may join the Chicago Civic Opera company.

Miss Ornstein is from a Chicago home, while Miss Mihm is a product of a suburb, River Forest. The girls for a year have sung with a movie house chorus.

The yearly scholarships are in line with the opera company's policy of recruiting its singers among the ambitious youths of the United States.

Slothower of this city, now secretary of the Wheeler School of Music at Madison, Wis., where she is continuing her studies, assisted in a St. Patrick's Day broadcast over station WIBA at Madison, which was sponsored by several business houses of the Wisconsin capital. Miss Slothower, who is a talented contralto, appeared in two double numbers, in one of which she was accompanied by a harpist.

WOMEN DEBATORS THINK FASTER, COACH DECLARES—

State College, Pa.—(AP)—Women debaters think quicker than men, in the opinion of Prof. John Henry Frizal of the Pennsylvania State college. He has coached both men's and women's debate teams for 20 years.

"Girls come to the fore in rebuttal where quick thinking is of paramount importance," he says. Among other points where girls excel he lists tactful approach and a tendency to consider the subject more seriously.

Beef and Macaroni Au Gratin

(Serving 6)

4 tablespoons butter

4 tablespoons flour

1 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon pepper

2 cups milk

2 tablespoons finely chopped onions

1 cup cooked, diced meat

1-2 cups cooked macaroni

1 cup rolled dried crumbs

2 tablespoons butter melted

Melt the 4 tablespoons of butter and add flour, salt and pepper. When mixed add milk and cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir frequently to prevent lumping. Add onions, meat and macaroni, and pour into buttered baking dish. Cover with crumbs which have been mixed with the 2 tablespoons of melted butter. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve in dish in which baked.

Caramel Nut Filling

2-3 cup dark brown sugar

1-3 cup flour

1-8 teaspoon salt

3 egg yolks

2 cups milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

1-3 cup nuts, (pecans suggested)

Blend sugar, flour and salt. Add egg yolks and milk. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently to prevent lumping. Add rest of ingredients and pour into baked pie shell. Cover with the meringue.

Meringue

3 egg whites

5 tablespoons sugar

1-8 teaspoon vanilla

1-8 teaspoon salt

Beat egg whites until very stiff.

Add sugar and beat until creamy.

Add rest of ingredients and roughly pile on top the filling and bake 10 minutes in slow oven.

Riverside P. T. A. Meeting on Thursday

The P. T. A. of the Riverside school held a meeting Thursday. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gronewald presided. Letters from the state and national presidents were read. The children of the school gave a program of readings and songs. A picture of Sir Galahad was also a feature. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Will Floet, the leader. Everyone joined in singing "Illinois". The speaker of the evening was Atty. John Devine of Dixon, former pupil of the school, which was enjoyed very much, by all.

The hostesses who served candy bars, were Mrs. Gronewald, Mrs. McWethy, Mrs. A. Stevens, Mrs. Layton.

RUSSIAN ARTIST PAINTS PORTRAIT OF MRS. GANN

Washington.—(AP)—A portrait of Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, the first she has made since becoming vice-presidential hostess, has just been completed by Boris B. Gordon, Russian portrait painter.

The picture required eight sittings and took a month to complete. It is being exhibited at a leading hotel and will later be taken by Mrs. Gann to the hotel quarters which she and her husband share with vice-president Curtis.

Mrs. Gann is shown wearing black velvet, pearls and a blue satin scarf over one shoulder.

Mrs. M. Conlon Entertained in Dixon

Mrs. M. Conlon of Ashton entertained her bridge club of that town with dinner and bridge at the Coffee House in Dixon last evening. There were twenty guests in attendance. Decorations for the happy affair were in the springlike colors of green and yellow. A delicious dinner was served and all spent a very enjoyable evening.

Announce Wedding to Be Solemnized Tues.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Meyers 111 E. McKenney street, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Carolyn, to James Edwin Bollman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bollman of South Dixon. The wedding is to be solemnized on next Tuesday evening, March 25th, at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church, and will be followed by a wedding dinner and reception, at the Meyers home, afterward.

Phidian Art Club Guest Day Was a Delightful Affair

Members of the Phidian Art Club and guests numbering over a hundred, enjoyed a delightful program at the home of Mrs. W. C. Durkes, on Tuesday afternoon, which was Phidian guest day. Mrs. E. M. Goodsell and Mrs. I. B. Potter, were hostesses with Mrs. Durkes, and were assisted by Mrs. Ames and Mrs. Drach.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. A. White, the vice president, Mrs. E. A. Siskels, presided.

Mrs. Siskels' announcement that Miss Josephine Anderson would play two piano numbers was received with much pleasurable anticipation. Miss Anderson played "Caprice" by Paderewski and "Tango" by Turin, and graciously responded with an encore, "Feux Follets," by Philipp.

Another favorite, Mrs. Lester Wilhelm, sang beautifully the following numbers, "The Answer," by Robert Huntington, and "The Quest," by Eleanor Smith, and "The Five Eyes," by Armstrong Gibbs, with "My Curly Headed Baby," by George Clutman as an encore.

The music of Miss Anderson, and Mrs. Wilhelm, who was ably accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Davies, is always a rare treat.

Owing to the illness of the scheduled speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. A. S. Moore, introduced the Rev. Henry Abraham of Bloomington, Ill., who is a well known traveler and lecturer.

In Dr. Abraham's address concerning the life and works of Lord Alfred Tennyson, he stressed two beautiful poems in particular, "The Princess," written as an ideal for women; and "Idylls of a King," as helpful to men, giving excerpts from each.

Special attention was directed to the poem "In Memoriam," in which Tennyson's personal doubts and fears and final triumphant faith, found expression.

Mrs. Wilhelm ably supported the speaker by her sympathetic rendition of "Sweet and Low," and "Crossing the Bar," the latter one of Tennyson's most noted poems.

Rev. Abraham presented such intimate glimpses of Tennyson's personal life that he struck a responsive chord in the hearts of all his listeners.

Mrs. I. B. Hoefler, as chairman of Art, presented three very artistic garden posters, the work of Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, for choice of one, to be sent as an entrant from the Phidian Art Club to the Garden Poster Exhibit to be shown in connection with the Chicago Garden Show which is to be held at the Hotel Sherman from March 28 to April 5th.

A variety of lovely spring flowers graced the Durkes home, and delicious refreshments added much to the enjoyment of the happy occasion. Mesdames Ames and Drach, pouring. The entire afternoon was one of the most enjoyable of the season.

The wedding will take place the latter part of April.

LONG DRESSES FOR CHURCH SPANISH MONARCH'S IDEA—

Paris.—(AP)—King Alfonso of Spain first had the idea that short skirts and religious worship do not go together and something ought to be done about it.

In 1927, recounts Madame Alice Bellier, one of several Paris dress-makers who make clothes for the Queen of Spain and the Spanish Infantas, King Alfonso complained to his wife that silk stockings and knees were too outstanding in church.

The result was the Spanish court's church dresses with their long skirts and sleeves and lace veils.

Madame Bellier, known to the Rue de la Paix as Mirande, was one of the first dressmakers to submit designs for church dresses to Queen Victoria.

She specializes in the black long skirted and high necked dresses women must wear for audiences with the Pope.

VAGUE COLORS REGAIN BEACH POPULARITY—

Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—After being neglected for years in favor of vivid hues, the vague in colors is in vogue at Palm Beach. Angel blue, pastel pink and pale lavender are prominent.

Coral is another tint gaining popularity, and flowered chiffon also is favored. One society matron was noted wearing a distinctive frock of this material in yellow and black on a background of green.

came to the United States in April, 1917, at the head of the British High Commission, almost at the hour America was declaring the existence of a state of war with Germany. The purpose of the envoys, as well as that of similar Allied commissions sent here, was to assist the United States in determining the scope of her cooperation with m.m. money and munitions.

Balfour visited President Wilson, addressed both houses of Congress and, by his picture of conditions abroad as well as by his eloquence did much, it was said, "to help heal the breach of 141 years between the United States and England."

Balfour's skill as an international diplomatist was shown at the peace table. Lloyd George was one of "the Big Four"—the others were Clemenceau, Wilson and Orlando—but Balfour was also a master hand for England. China had helped the Allies in the war and yet, when the peace treaty came to be drafted, the "Big Four" awarded Shantung, one of China's richest provinces and the birthplace of Confucius, to Japan.

The Chinese blamed Balfour and declared that it bore out what a critic had said of him: "Charm he has in a high degree; but it is an illusive charm. His address is curiously winning and appealing; but politically it has no basis in loyalty or rooted affection. He smiles upon his friends and leaves them to the wolves."

At twenty-six, in 1874—he was born July 25, 1848—Balfour entered the House of Commons. He had become a recognized scholar at Eton and Cambridge, but appeared to lean more to the religious and philosophical than to the practical and political side of life.

Everyone was surprised when a few years after his arrival at Westminster he joined forces with the Conservative rebel element known as the Fourth Party, whose other three members were Lord Randolph Churchill, Sir Henry Drummond Wolff and Sir John Gorst. These party ties and voted on measures according to their merits. All of men proclaimed independence of them were brilliant debaters.

Meantime, Balfour was obtaining an insight into the trade of government by acting as private secretary to Lord Salisbury, Secretary for Foreign Affairs. In this capacity he attended the Berlin Congress in 1878 with his uncle and Lord Beaconsfield and there learned something of German diplomacy.

In Cabinet in 1885 After the Liberals had had a long lease of power Balfour was appointed in 1885 a member of the Salisbury Conservative government, but not of the Cabinet as President of the Local Government Board. It was only a few months until the Liberals under Gladstone again threw out the Conservatives, who, however, turned the tables on their opponents once more in the same year, 1888, when Balfour became firstly, Secretary for Scotland and then Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Ireland at this time, 1887, was in a state of chaos. The "reign of terror" was in full force.

Balfour suppressed the disorders by abolishing trial by jury.

The people of Ireland detested the new administrator and many were the threats against "bloody Balfour," but he went on until he began to display the milder side of his character. He evolved the plan of compulsory land purchase for tenant farmers, whose rebellion had been the outcome of many years of rack-renting and absentee landlordism and he introduced a system of light railroads to assist them in disposing of their produce.

A short period of quiet work as First Lord of the Treasury ensued, and then Balfour retired from office with his party in 1892, remaining on the opposition benches till 1895.

Helped Friendship An action which did much to strengthen the friendly feeling of the United States for the British was attributed to Balfour during his next term of office. As First Lord of the Treasury he was temporarily taking the place of Lord Salisbury at the Foreign Office when the Cuban crisis arose in 1898. Certain European powers proposed to intervene at Washington in behalf of the right of Spain to govern her colonies in her own way. Britain was approached, but Balfour did not fall in with the plan and notified Washington that Britain would not adopt any policy which might be construed as unfriendly to the United States.

This action brought the whole scheme to naught and probably had the effect of preventing a great war for ten years consecutively.

The Conservative party remained in power until 1905. In the interval, after Salisbury's death, Balfour had succeeded to the position of Premier, in 1902. In 1905, the question of tariffs rang the death-knell of the Tory administration and brought about the temporary eclipse to Balfour but the next year, 1906, he was elected a member of parliament from the city of London and served mainly in that capacity until the outbreak of the great war in 1914 again brought his abilities as an administrator into recognition. Since 1891, he had served as chancellor of Edinburgh University until, in 1919, he became chancellor of Cambridge.

Lord Balfour made his second notable visit to the United States in October, 1921, coming as head of the British delegation to the Washington Armament Conference. He took one of the most prominent parts in this epochal assembly, and created an excellent impression both here and in England through his efforts

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

Ten thousand people filed through the rotunda of the United States capitol to pay a last farewell to the body of William Howard Taft, former president and chief justice; and on the same day some 15,000 people milled around a house in Chicago to attend the obsequies of the late John Dingbat Oberta, who was a power in gangland until a machine gun took him off.

These things happened on the same day, with an ironic contrast that almost makes it look as if fate had devised a mocking coincidence for our edification. You can make of it what you want to.

The highest officials of the nation attended Mr. Taft's funeral. Still, the Dingbat had three Chicago politicians, one of whom is about to run for congress, among his pall-bearers. His casket cost $15,000, was covered by a blanket of orchids and went to the grave accompanied by four carloads of flowers and a procession two miles in length.

Thus, while a gang leader's taking-off is not quite as impressive a ceremony as the funeral of a former president of the republic, it is no mean show. A visiting European, chancing to witness the Oberta rites, might well conclude that one of the great men of the nation was being interred. We can only console ourselves by reflecting that Oberta at any rate was not buried in Arlington.

To moralize about it all is fruitless, however. And it is a bit foolish to grow indignant. After all, by the current American standards, this Oberta was a great man. He was one of the moving spirits in the second city of the nation. In one way and another he held a great deal of real power. If the stories about him are correct, there was a time, when he even held the power of life or death over certain of Chicago's citizens.

All of this may be very regrettable, but you can't laugh it off. Oberta had a swell funeral coming to him. He rated it, as the navy phrase has it. He may have been a criminal, a plug-ugly, a man of evil repute—but during his lifetime he sat in the seats of the mighty.

What it comes down to, then, is simply this: we have put together for ourselves a civilization in which a leader of an underworld gang can be one of our important citizens. Somehow we have fixed things so that an ambitious young man might well wonder if the profession of the racketeer might not be the best way to get fame, riches and power.

It's no earthly use to yelp about the Dingbat's gorgeous funeral, or to toss brickbats at his departed shade. He was simply a sign of the times. He was an outcropping of some typical American stratum. His funeral, rivaling that of a president in splendor, was simply a sign of the time.

THE PROBLEM OF HAZING

Hazing is one of the perennial problems for the American college. Every college has its troubles with it at some time or another. Just now it is North Carolina State that is the unlucky institution, with three students expelled for the offense and several more under investigation.

The facts in the case are of the usual kind. One student was pulled out of bed by masked invaders and beaten so badly that he was painfully injured. Several other students were forcibly given grotesque hair cuts.

Just what it is that makes intelligent young men carry on activities like this is a puzzler. One would suppose that a college man, of all people, would be above such idiotic barbarities. But the trouble crops out in all colleges. It almost makes one suspect that there is a hidden, in-born streak of cruelty in the American character.

Just another case of compensation of nature—as the car parking problem grows more serious scientists find us a new planet.

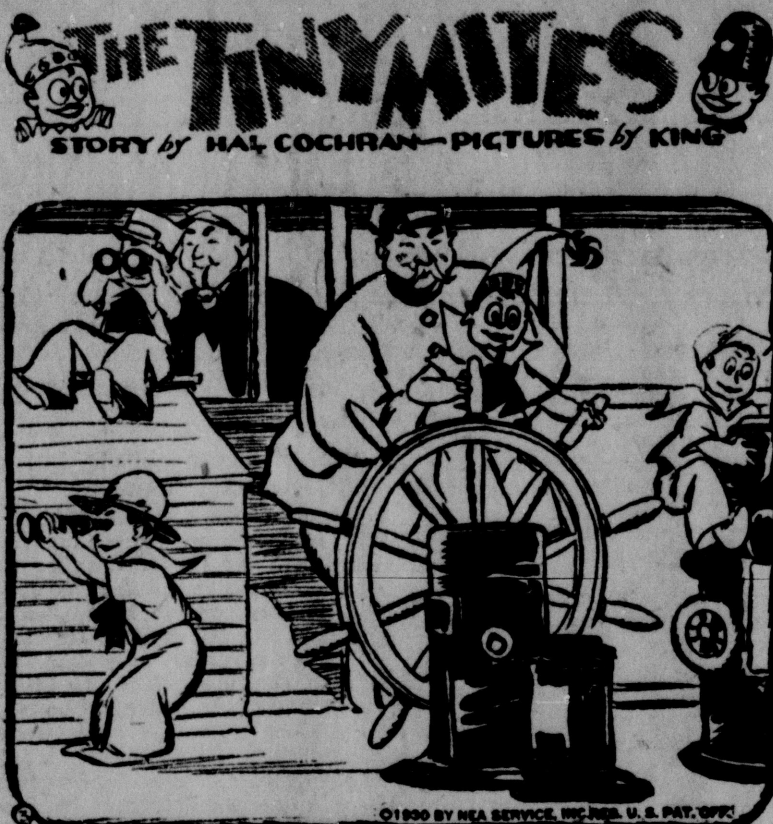

It is revealed that a Boston man accumulated a fortune of $100,000 in the four years he served as prohibition agent. He wishes he were a copper still, we suppose.

Now that a Texas beauty prize winner has been given a long term movie contract and another Texas girl has won a national beauty contest, the time seems ripe for that state to put a plural on its "Lone Star" sobriquet.

We suppose that the movie actress who went to Palestine to study for the talkies will do her practicing along the Walling Wall.

A dog has been sentenced to die in California for killing sheep. Many will favor a similar punishment for fleecers of lambs on Wall Street.

"Most Americans who are really worth anything," says George Bernard Shaw, "come over to see me." And perhaps all they want is his autograph.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynmites played shuffle board until their escort loudly roared. "Hey! lads! It's time for dinner and I'm hungry as can be. Let's call the game off for a while." And funny Clowney, with a smile, cried, "Lead the way. A bit of food will look real good to me."

"Let's wash up first so we'll look neat before we sit down to the treat," said Scouty. And the bunch agreed this was a worthy plan. The Travel Man said, "I'll wash, too, so I will be as neat so you." It wasn't long till everyone was looking spic and span.

Into the dining room they went and more than half an hour was spent in eating food that tasted fine and made them all feel great. For their dessert they had ice cream. Said Coppy, "This is like a dream. When food time comes I'll promise you that I will ne'er be late."

At last the wondrous meal was o'er and, with the Travel Man once more medical missionary. In his colorful explorations there, which were marked with privations and suffering, he discovered many new lakes and rivers.

After a visit to England, where he was wildly acclaimed, Livingstone determined he would return to Africa to find the true source of the Nile. He got lost on this expedition and H. M. Stanley, with a relief party sponsored by James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald, was sent to find him. Stanley found Livingstone, but was unable to induce him to return to Europe.

Exhausted by continued hardship, Livingstone died among friendly natives who cut out his heart and buried it at the foot of the tree beneath whose branches he died.

"Ye can read the face of the sky, but ye cannot discern the signs of the times."—Matt. 16:3.

No man who thinks can have failed to feel a strain upon his faith during the last decade, nor can he have entirely escaped the effects of our contemporary pessimism.

There have been foggy times. The most urgent need of our day is a new sense of expectancy, a conviction that God is not dead, and that the Golden Age was not yesterday but will be tomorrow. In spite of this current bewilderment there are numerous justifications of a new and daring morale.

There is the increasing effort to shift our civilization from a competitive to a co-operative basis. One cannot escape the implications of many movements toward a co-operative world order. This is the way of the Prince of Peace.

There is the increasing permeation of the world mind with the principles of Jesus. Christ's influence has far outrun institutional Christianity. The aim and personnel of the Chinese Nationalist Movement, India's declaration of independence by non-violent methods, the general acceptance of Christian principles by non-Christian multitudes combine to stir one with hope.

And then there is the growing conviction of the peril of modern progress unless guided by spiritual forces toward benevolent ends. The gray is the dawn, not the twilight.

On March 19, 1813, David Livingstone, famous missionary and explorer, and said to be the first to "lift the veil from the 'Dark Continent,'" was born at Blantyre, Scotland.

First interested in missionary work by attending theological lectures at Anderson College, where he was studying medicine, young Livingstone decided to go to Africa as a

"Watchdog of the Treasury"

... More than a Nickname

NEARLY twenty-five millions of dollars saved! Twenty-five millions lopped off Senate expenditures! Twenty-five millions in public funds protected! Small wonder his fellow senators have titled Senator Wright "The Watchdog of the Treasury."

It is worthy testimony to his policy of guarding the welfare of those he serves that the nickname has stuck. And it tells a big story of how Senator Wright is consistently striving to work for the betterment of the public he represents... constantly driving to economy.

Reducing appropriations is a small but most important part of his useful efforts. But it's a vital point you won't want to overlook in the selection of the man you want for State Senator. Keep that saving policy at work—retain the safety for funds that Senator Wright has given you and will continue to give. On April 8th—

VOTE FOR
HARRY G.
WRIGHT!

The voter who seeks facts will find an amazing story of accomplished work in the record of Senator Wright. No idle claims or promises—but an actual completion of many useful efforts. Day after day spent in laboring over plans for your welfare with the other government officials—hour after hour poring over methods of improving conditions—week after week in developing saving methods and increasing state facilities. You'll want to keep that force at work—you'll want a continuation of that untiring zeal for your good—the sort of enthusiasm that has permitted Senator Wright but one day's absence in ten years.

WHY VACCINATION?

By James F. Elder, M. D.
Youngstown, O.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Because it is the only effective preventive for smallpox. There just is no other, and it is never wise to wait until smallpox appears in the neighborhood in which you live before being vaccinated, because you may be the one to be unfortunate.

Vaccination needs no proof. It has been thoroughly proven both as to its safety and effectiveness, and the following incident which occurred in our own district is just one of the myriad examples of its value.

A pupil was in school one and one-half days just prior to the eruption of smallpox, exposing thirty-five other pupils to smallpox. Thirty-two of those exposed had been vaccinated. The parents of the other three refused to have them vaccinated and were subjected to a seventeen day quarantine as contacts. All three of these children contracted smallpox. Their families were vaccinated immediately and no other cases developed.

Now in the name of common sense why do people refuse vaccination? Why was it necessary for four small children to have smallpox? Questions easily answered! Because their parents were just ignorantly prejudiced against a scientific, proven fact. What must health workers do to convince people that it is cheaper to prevent disease, from a financial as well as from a grief standpoint, than to try to cure it?

Diphtheria, Typhoid Fever, and Smallpox are the three principal contagious diseases which are preventable.

Vaccination against Smallpox is 100 per cent perfect.

Toxin-antitoxin is nearly 100 per cent perfect in preventing the occurrence of diphtheria.

Inoculation against typhoid fever is nearly 100 per cent perfect.

Toxin-antitoxin for scarlet fever has proven of value.

These pictures show how the new Louisiana state capitol, above, and the executive mansion, below, at Baton Rouge, will look when completed. Governor Huey P. Long, inset, stormy petrel of Louisiana politics, supervised drawing of plans for the executive mansion, which is nearly completed, at a cost of $150,000. The $2,000,000 capitol will rise 24 stories, housing the legislative chambers and the governor's offices in the base and the other state departments in the tower.

week being moved into that part of the bank building formerly occupied by the post office. The rooms have recently been renovated and redecorated and will be a very desirable location for the new office.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDougall and Wayne Archer were LaSalle visitors Wednesday.

The Compton Athletic club has announced that the last game of their schedule will be played on the home floor March 25 against the Whitecomb Rompers, a girls' team from Rochelle. It will undoubtedly be one of the most unusual games of the season, and such will be a splendid way for the club to wind up a full and hard schedule.

Mrs. Ann Bernardin entertained with several tables of bridge at her home on Friday evening. Prizes for playing honors were won by Mrs. Leslie Corwin and Mrs. Don Gilmore.

Miss Helen Butler was a Mendota caller Saturday.

church parlors. Decorations of sham-rock, green candies and streamers made the tables very attractive. A most enjoyable program made the evening very complete.

Mr. and Mrs. William Archer entertained several friends at their home with a dinner in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Archer's father, Vernon Olson of Rochelle.

Raymond Guinnip of Oak Park has been spending a few days of this week with relatives here.

Mrs. John Tribbett, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paine in Chicago for the past week, returned to her home here Monday.

HARRIS ELLSWORTH, EDITOR OF THE ROSEBURG (OREGON) NEWS-REVIEW, SAYS:

"When I moved from a city of four hundred thousand souls to this city, which has a population of some seven thousand, my friends all asked me, when I told them good-bye, 'What on earth will you do with your spare time in a small place like that?'"

"I wonder! The only time in my life that I have ever had any spare time was when I lived in a city. There is ten times as much doing in this town, so far as I am concerned, as there was in the city from which I moved. Why? Because there are fewer people to do the social and business honors, attend luncheon clubs, etc. Like Lon Chaney, the average small city business man has to be several different persons."

"Take this week for instance. I have been to two banquets, one card party, one dinner party, attended one luncheon club meeting, one chamber of commerce dinner, practiced with the American Legion glee club, attended a high school basketball game and played golf one afternoon. And I absolutely had to do all of those things or people would ask why not and criticize severely. Small cities are like that. You get used to it quickly though, and I can say truthfully, having finished my first year in this small city come the end of this week, that I would not trade back. I would not willingly go back to a city to live."

"Why, Simply because you can live a more rounded life in a smaller town. In a small town you have a fling at everything. We have a beautiful private country club in which are practically all of the business and professional people of the town. We have excellent talking picture theatres and have an occasional musical event of importance. I can enjoy wonderful trout fishing by driving for twenty minutes from my office. I can shoot a deer as easily, AND I CAN DO ALL OF THE THINGS IN ONE DAY AND HAVE SOME TIME LEFT THAT WE USED TO PLAN FOR WEEKS AND TAKE SEVERAL DAYS TO DO WHEN I LIVED IN A CITY."

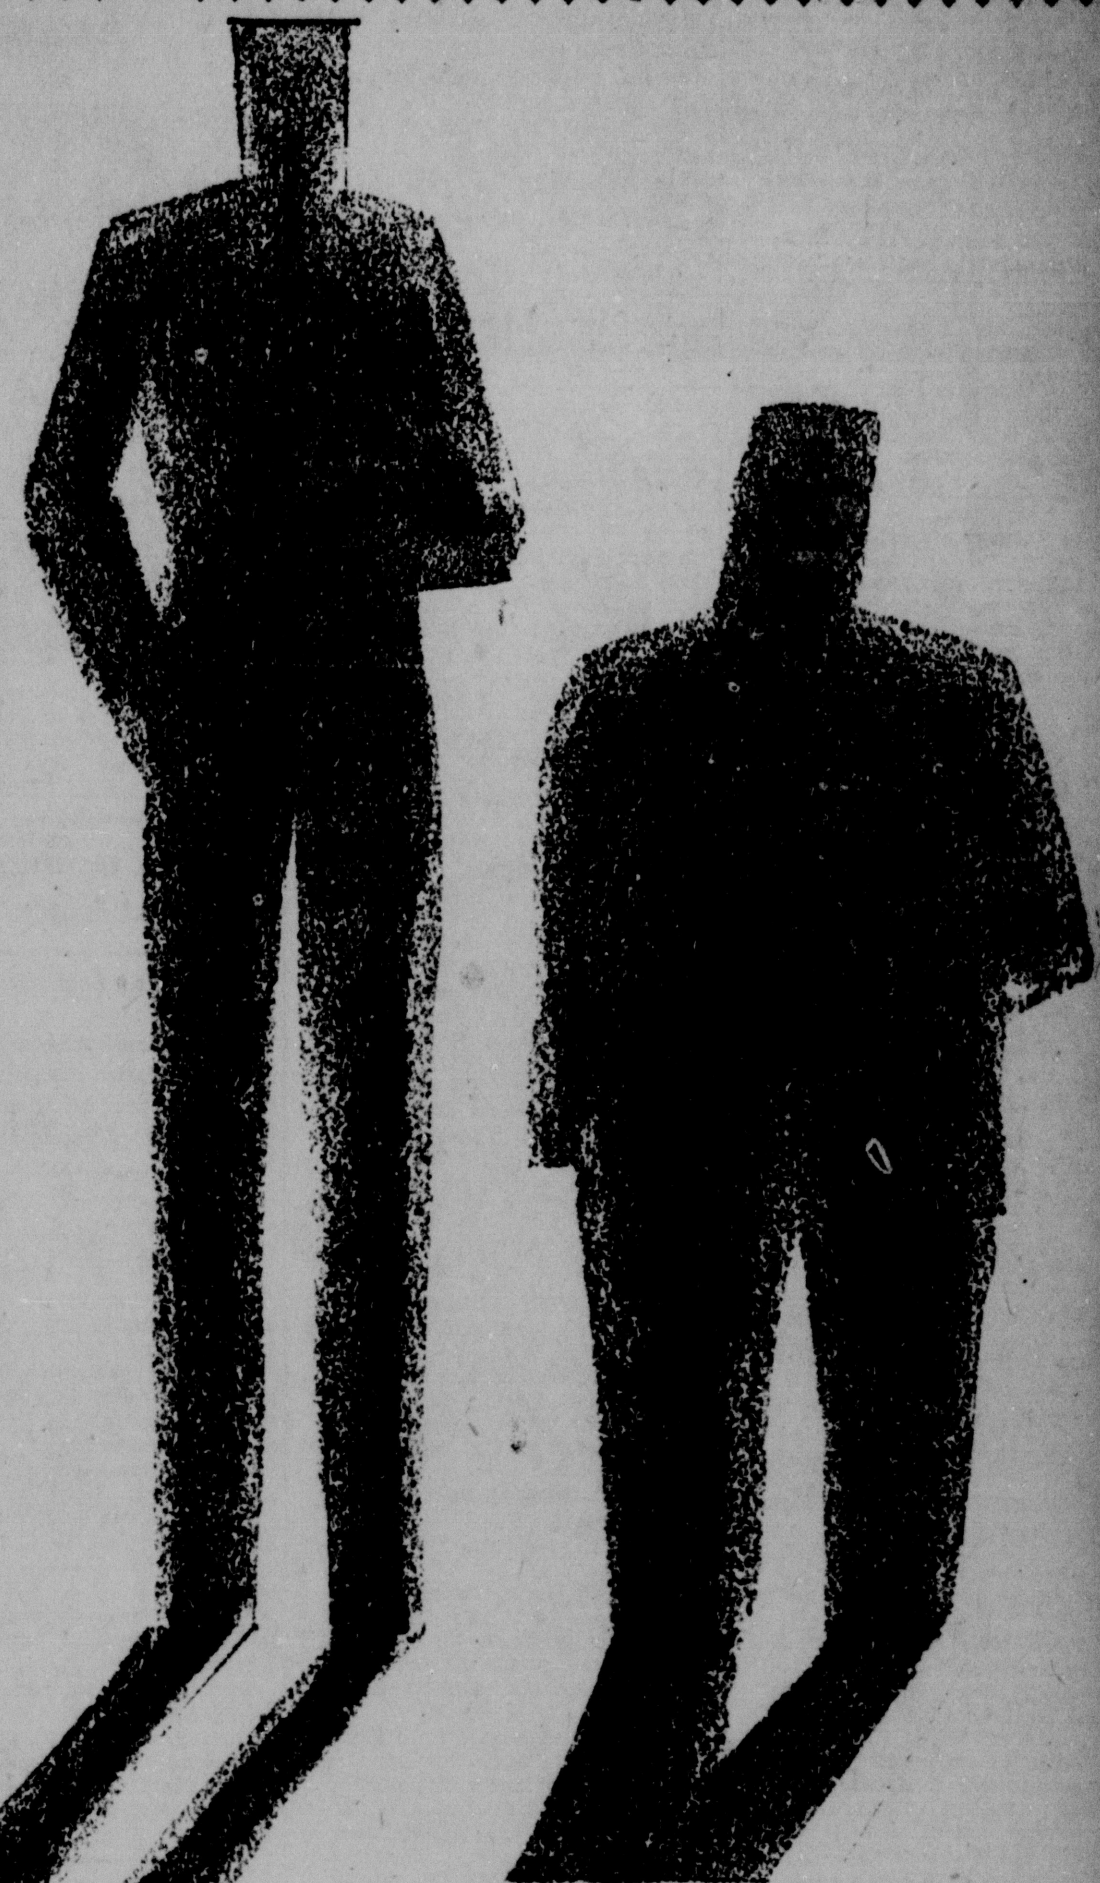

Germany Loses Fear Of Hohenzollerns

Berlin, March 18—(UP)—After more than 11 years as a republic, Germany has lost her fear of a Hohenzollern coup d'état. The Reichstag passed the new defense of the republic law today by a vote of 265 to 150. By not mentioning the former dynasty, the law allows its members, including the ex-Kaiser, the freedom of average citizens.

The new law does, however, place a definite check on the activities of both Communists and Fascists. It provides heavy penalties for "abuse of the republican form of government, slander of high officials and penalties are imposed on those who would actively seek to overthrow the existing regime. Ample excuses for such drastic provisions are cited by the government in connection with recent attempts to establish a dictatorship. Specifically it is aimed at Communists and Hitlerites."

Another feature of the new act is that, where as the old law required a two-thirds majority for amendment, the present one specifies only a simple majority. In that connection it is significantly recalled that the Cabinet failed last summer to obtain the necessary majority to permit the former Kaiser's return at that time.

The original defense of the republic act was passed in 1922, as a direct result of the assassination of Walther Rathenau, the industrial leader and statesman. It expired last July.

Payments are moderate—operating costs are low

If you as a small car owner wish that you might sit at the wheel of a Cadillac or La Salle, consider this—the man you envy may be paying no more than you for his motor transportation.

It is true that his monthly payments are slightly higher than yours. And he pays $15 or $20 more in a year for his gasoline and oil.

But his service expense is astonishingly low.

And the major repairs, overhauling and replacements that must begin in some cars at 20,000 to 25,000 miles need not be made in a Cadillac or La Salle until you have rolled up 75,000 to 100,000. Or perhaps never.

Come in. Let us give you the facts regarding convenient purchase and low cost operation of these splendid cars.

Shires Delivered Another Ultimatum

Dallas, Tex., March 19—(AP)—Art Shires, holdout first sacker of the Chicago White Sox, has issued an ultimatum. Unless a better offer than the $7,000 contract tendered him early in the season is forthcoming in a week the bad boy of baseball threatens to play semi-pro ball, either in Chicago or in the Rio Grande Valley.

At his home in Italy, Tex., Shires said he had received a number of attractive propositions from semi-professional clubs.

Meanwhile the "Old Roman" appears to be biding his time and enjoying the pre-season success of Manager Donie Bush and his Shireless team. He refuses to discuss the matter beyond the statement that Shires, who took more than a month to answer his last letter inquiring into his department during the past few months, will get an answer.

Plan Drastic Rule To Punish Foulers

Chicago, March 19—(AP)—Illinois may follow the action of the New York State Athletic Commission in adopting a drastic boxing foul rule.

Since the Illinois Commission was reorganized several months ago, it has been dealing severely with fighters guilty of fouling and those close to the commission say it has been contemplating a move similar to that made by the New York Commission, suspending a foul fighter two months for his first offense, four months for the second, six months for the third and permanently for the fourth.

Charter Plane For American's Rescue

San Angelo, Tex., March 19—(AP)—An airplane to carry 3,000 pesos ransom for J. E. Bristow, 60, American oil operator reported held by bandits at Mazatlan on the west coast of Mexico, was under charter here today to fly immediately to the oil man's rescue.

Gordon Obie Bristow, son of the prisoner, expected to make an early departure with the money.

A Wichita Falls, Tex., merchant, Sam Kimberlin, also has started rescue plans. He wired his cousin, William Blocker, Senior Consul in Juarez, Mexico, guaranteeing payment of the ransom.

According to dispatches to Blocker, the elder Bristow was captured while exploring for oil.

The occurrence was the first reported in several months. The region, infested several months ago by religious fanatics, is considered most hazardous of all Mexico.

According to advices last night from Mexico City, the American embassy there has requested the Mexican government to make every effort to free Bristow. Three Mexicans captured with Bristow also were reported held.

KONJOLA ENDED ILLS; PUT MAN BACK ON JOB!

Glad to Tell How New Medicine Ended Severe Case of Stomach Trouble.

"Konjola put me back on the job and made my work easier," said Mr. William A. Winston, 327 South Fifth street, Quincy, Ill. "Day and night I suffered from stomach trouble. It was possible only for me to work two days a week because of this ailment. I was weak from lack of nourishment but I could not eat much food because of the suffering it caused. Sleep was out of the question and I was rundown in general."

"After hearing so much about Konjola, I decided to put it to the test. Konjola met the test, and how! Daily I improved and within a short time my system had been cleansed, and my organs regulated. Then, almost like magic, Konjola restored my digestion. I can eat three hearty meals a day without distress. I sleep soundly and work every day in the week. No wonder I am so enthusiastic about Konjola."

FORMER GROCER HERE WRITES OF BUYING QUALITY

L. W. Newcomer is Author
Of Article In N. Y.
Publication

"Buying Labels Instead of Quality" is the subject of an article written by L. W. Newcomer, former Dixon grocer and now engaged as food analyst for one of the trans-Atlantic passenger steamship companies. The article appears in the current issue of The Analyst, a bi-monthly publication issued in New York City, for hotel, club and restaurant owners. In the introductory editor's note, it is stated that Mr. Newcomer was for many years head of both retail and wholesale grocery companies, before he became a hotel owner and manager eight years ago, and that his advice, therefore is particularly trustworthy in this field. The article follows:

It is a fact so well known nowadays as to be taken for granted that a catering business to be successful must appeal to the eye as much as it does to the palate. A meat attractively served will always leave the customer better pleased than a meal, which may be every bit as wholesome, but which is unattractively served. The power of vision in the matter of food is of paramount importance. However in that truth there lurks danger. The danger is well illustrated in the push cart penny merchant who sells candied apples to children. His apples, regardless of quality, are always stained bright red, and are highly polished. If they were not decorated, they would not sell. The red, polished apple invariably outsells its competitor of less showy appearance, but of really better quality. The same principal applies to canned and package foods.

Labels either represent a certain quality or they represent nothing. If a label represents the finest quality, then the price must be in line with what the label calls for.

A fancy label or package is of no value once the can or package is opened; quality alone is then of importance. Quality foods can be purchased without paying a premium for fancy labels and packages if one recognizes quality when he sees it.

Buying labels is a protection for those who buy in very small lots and for those who do not recognize quality when they see it. Stewards and purchasing agents, hold their positions on the presumption that they know foods, nevertheless in looking over their store shelves one will usually find nothing but fancy labelled cans. When a canner or a jobber is unable to sell its fancy label goods it does not cut the price for a cut price today becomes the regular price tomorrow. It simply relabels the cans with its cheaper price label and disposes of the over-loaded fancy stock as a cheaper quality, which means at a lower price.

When buying fresh fruits and vegetables one judges the quality and pays the current market price, and receives the benefits of an over-stocked market at times. In buying fancy label goods one buys by the label alone, the owner receives the benefit of the break in the market. Quality canned goods can often be purchased without paying a premium for the label.

I have tried to make clear my contention that there is an important difference between label and quality. Economy of buying demands that the purchaser be able to recognize quality, regardless of its covering.

CHICAGO—An all-star team composed of former Loyola University basketball players defeated a team of former Purdue players, led by Stretch Murphy, 36 to 32. The Loyola team was captained by Fred Murphy, considered the country's best college center outside of Stretch last year. Fred scored three field goals and two free throws as compared with the two field goals Stretch was able to garner.

CHICAGO—The Chicago Blackhawks defeated Toronto, 4-1, in the final game of the National Hockey League season to clinch second place in the league standings. The Hawks are preparing to play Les Canadiens next Sunday night in the first game of the Stanley Cup series play-off. The second game will be played at Montreal. March 23 or 27, the winner, on the basis of goals scored in the two games, to advance into the second round of the playoffs.

NEW YORK—Primo Carnera will interrupt his tour of the Hinterlands to meet "the best opponent available" in the first outdoor show of the season at Ebbets Field, June 4, according to an announcement today by Promoter Jess McMahon.

CLEVELAND, O.—While pin stars from 23 cities bid for places among the leaders in the American Bowling Congress competition here today, officers and members of the executive committee were to transact business of the National Pin Association.

H. William Pollack of Buffalo is slated to succeed James A. Wilson of New York as President. W. A. Le Gear of St. Louis and E. B. Saunders of Kansas City, second and third vice presidents, respectively, are to move up a notch in official rank and a new third vice president is to be named.

There were few changes among the leaders yesterday's play. The Hotel Olds pin toppers of Lansing, Mich., crashed the maples for a total of 2,852 and went into fifth place. This was the only change of the day among the first ten in the five-man event.

Two doubles teams rolled up among the leaders. W. Holz and G. Anderson of Patterson, N. J., totalled 1248 to go into sixth place, while C. Johnson and J. Tish of Erie, Pa., hung up a score of 1237 and landed in seventh place.

The only change in the singles leaders found L. Foley, Indianapolis, Ind., going into ninth place with a score of 670. This score also lifted Foley into eighth place in the all events, his total being 1846.

SILVER BULLET DEVELOPS MANY
DEFECTS TODAYBut British Auto Racer
Is Not Discouraged
By Them

MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Daytona Beach, Fla., March 19.—(UP)—Kaye Don, British racing driver, who has encountered many difficulties in his attempts to set a new speed record for automobiles, was not discouraged today.

He planned to go out late this afternoon and make another effort to drive faster than 231.36 miles per hour, which he will have to do if he sets a record better than that of Major H. O. Segrave a year ago.

Yesterday he set out in quest of a record but was unable to do better than 168 miles per hour as an average for his first round trip of the course. When he attempted a second circuit the gas supply line on his 4000 horse power car broke and he was brought to a halt with a sputtering motor at the second mile of the nine mile course. He insisted that the line be repaired and that he be permitted to go on but the mechanics were unable to make the necessary changes in time.

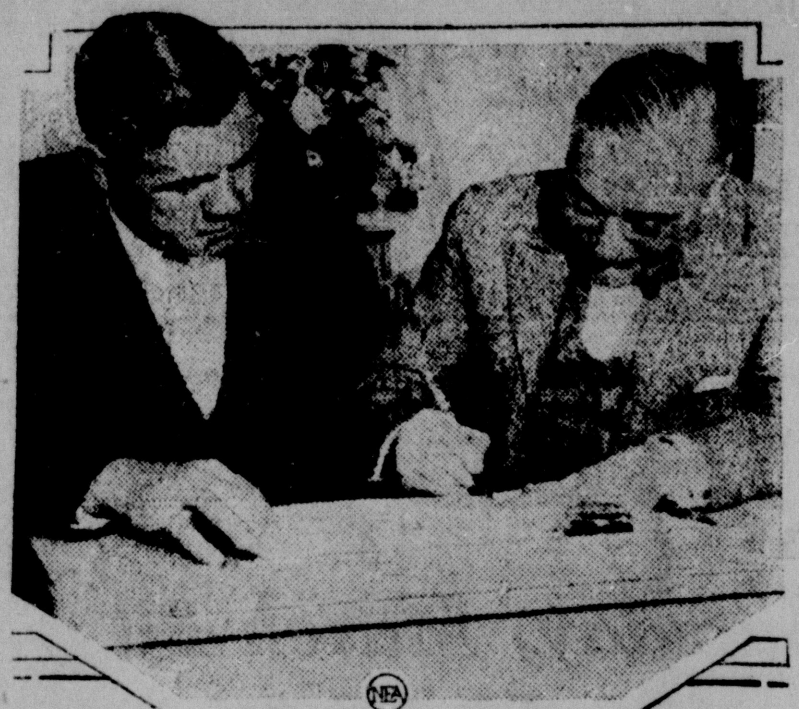

Don believes that if he does not make a record today he can do nothing before Friday or Saturday on account of the conditions of the tides. He realizes that the sooner he can get it over with the less chance he is taking and for that reason he plans to take advantage of the low tide.

Some of the pseudo-experts are beginning to question the ability of the car to carry the speed and weight developed by its great motors. Don, however, is still confident.

The Ireland of America may be said to be Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, for snakes seldom are seen in these three states.

The Bambino Gets His $80,000 a Year

All is quiet on the southern front. For here you see that rising young erstwhile hold-out, George Herman Ruth, left, inaking peace—to the tune of $80,000 a year for two years—with Col. Jacob Rupert, owner of the New York Yankees, at St. Petersburg, Fla. Ruth's contract called for the largest salary ever paid to a baseball player and probably the largest cash deal in baseball history.

BARNHARD PLANS
ELIMINATION OF
CHEAP HOME RUNHe Would Screen Off All Areas Closer Than 350 Feet

(Copyright 1930 by The United Press)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19.—(UP)—Ernest S. Barnard, President of the American League, hopes to eliminate baseball's "cheap home run" without tampering with the present lively ball.

Barnard revealed to a United Press representative that he had taken up the matter officially with all American league club owners, and that while as yet he had received no ready response, he was hopeful of success.

The league head said that he had proposed that all home run sectors closer than 350 feet to the plate be screened off. He indicated that the acceptance of his idea depended on the attitude of the New York Yankees. All the other owners, he said, were adverse to passing any legislation which might be interpreted as a possible blow at the Yankees.

"I have asked our league to adopt a rule which would call for a 30-foot screen in all home run areas within 325 feet of the plate and a 20-foot screen between 325 and 350 feet," Barnard said. "This would make only the territory beyond 350 feet absolutely free for the home run hitter, and would raise the four base drive in the estimation of the fans."

"This screen proposal might look like a potential handicap for Babe Ruth. But as a matter of fact the adoption of my idea would glorify Ruth, make him bigger than ever, and make his feats stand out more resplendently."

"You know how Ruth hits those home runs around the circuit, and I doubt if his total would be reduced by as many as three or four. Ruth hits them into the street in Cleveland, where there is a 45-foot screen in right field. He hits them out of the park in Detroit, St. Louis and Philadelphia. Screens would not players most desired.

Desertions have reduced the ranks of major holdouts to 10 players. The players still unsigned are:

Burleigh Grimes—Pittsburgh.
Fresco Thompson—Phillies.
Babe Herman—Brooklyn.
Ed Roush—New York Giants.
Goose Goslin—Washington.
Roy Spencer—Washington.
Art Shires—Chicago White Sox.
Alex Metzler—Chicago White Sox.
Heinie Manush—St. Louis Browns.
George Blaholder—St. Louis Browns.

bother him but would cut down the numbers of home run hitters.

"At present players who have no right to be swinging for homers are using the Ruth type of batting. I think it's time to step in and do something to cut down the mania."

"The public wants the lively ball, with the speed it has brought into baseball, but it doesn't want a flock of cheap home runs. And it would appreciate a return of some of the older sort of hitting. By all means let us not do anything to really hamper a man like Ruth."

The screening proposition would affect only four American League parks—New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Detroit. In the last two named cities screens already in place would have to be heightened. In Philadelphia the lower tier of the far stands would be shut off. In New York the right left field bleacher and the left field stand would be affected.

The screen idea gained some headway last season when the St. Louis Cardinals and Phillies put up barriers in right field. The Pittsburgh Pirates are erecting a screen at Forbes Field, but in the past neither New York club has taken kindly to the movement.

National Catholic
H. S. Games Tonight

Chicago, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The race for the seventh annual National Catholic High School basketball championship opens at Loyola University tonight with 32 teams from 23 states striving to dethrone the championship five from De La Salle High, Chicago.

Three games will be played of the first round tonight, 11 tomorrow and three Friday morning. Tonight's contests involve two former champions, the first being St. Xavier of Louisville, Ky., which meets St. Mary's of Walsenburg, Colo. An hour later, at 8 P. M., the defending champion, De La Salle meets St. John's Academy of Rensselaer, N. Y. The third game is between Catholic High of Decatur, Ill., and Altoona Pa., Catholic high.

EIGHT TEAMS TO ANSWER GUN FOR FINAL MATCHESState Basketball Championship Will Be Determined At U. I.

BY CLYDE JOHNSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Champaign, Ill., Mar. 19.—(AP)—Eight crack prep quintets, the pride and joy of Illinois' basketball world, will swing into the final competition for the state high school basketball championship here tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Safely past the district and sectional barriers, the eight teams enter the home stretch of the race in the huge University of Illinois gym in four games tomorrow afternoon and night.

Abingdon and Bloomington will meet in the first game at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon; Olney and Carbondale will clash at 5 o'clock. The night games will be between Waterman and Beardstown at 7:30 o'clock and Peoria Manual and Atwood at 8:30.

The second round of play will find the winners of the Abingdon-Bloomington and Olney-Carbondale games meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday night and the survivors of the Peoria Manual-Atwood and Waterman-Beardstown tilts clashing at 8:30 o'clock.

Illinois' 1930 champion will be determined in the final battle at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. A consolation game for third place honors will be staged between the losers of the semi-final round at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

The Bloomington five enters the fray with the distinction of representing the only school among the eight finalists which has won a previous title. Bloomington annexed the championship in 1910 and again in 1916. Atwood, represented this year by an imposing crew of six-footers, won second place in 1922 and Olney was fourth in 1920.

Carbondale Favored.
Carbondale's powerful quintet is a favorite with many sports writers and fans. Victor over Johnston City, defending champions in the sectional play, the Carbondale team has won 29 and lost 2 games this year and copped the Big Seven title and the championship of the state invitational tourney at Pontiac in December.

However, the other finalists also possess sparkling records. Waterman comes to the finals with the honor of handing Sycamore its first defeat in 24 starts and with a record of 28 wins and 2 losses for the season's play.

Beardstown has lost but two games this year; Peoria Manual lost five but won the co-championship of the Big Twelve conference; Atwood lost three games, two to the crack Decatur team and one to Assumption. Abingdon emerged unscathed in the sectional that contained the dangerous Rock Island and Freeport teams. Olney has been a favorite in southern Illinois competition all season, and Bloomington has lost but three games.

The Truth..

The Voice of the People is rising from every city, town and hamlet of the country to bitterly denounce the CHAIN STORE TRUST, the gigantic octopus whose tentacles are gradually closing around every thriving community in America and squeezing its last ounce of wealth and prosperity.

When you are out of work, who is going to give you credit? The Chain Stores?

No! They've got your money and gone to Wall Street, to form more companies, to open more stores, to force more manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers out of business, and more and more people out of a job. You can expect from the Chain Stores just what you are getting—nothing!

It's your HOME TOWN MERCHANT who stands by you and pulls you over the rough spots by extending you credit. He has something more than just merchandise to sell. He offers you courteous, friendly service, convenient delivery and is as close to you as your telephone.

Your HOME TOWN MERCHANT is an active and contributing part of your community, interested in its progress and your welfare, lends his support to your churches and local charities, and pays his taxes to maintain your schools and build your roads. Wouldn't you rather deal with that kind of a man? What has the Chain Store contributed to your community progress and prosperity?

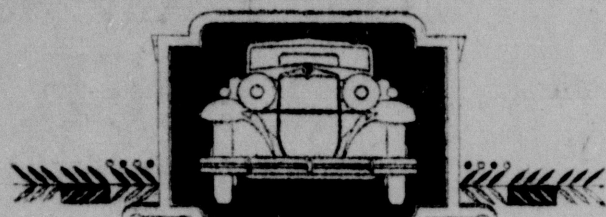

TRUTH believes that the people WILL stand by their home town institutions and merchants, and SAFEGUARD THE PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY of this nation "Of the people, by the people, and for the people."

FROM THE TRUTH.

PIONEER OF THE STRAIGHT-EIGHT

Four years ago, the Hupp Motor Car Corporation predicted that the Straight-Eight motor was destined to dominate the fine car field... Ending the reign of the Six in the field above $1500... Even then the Hupp Motor Car Corporation was building a superb Straight-Eight... backed by years of development and experimentation.

HUPMOBILE meets this new era of the Straight-Eight as a seasoned and successful Straight-Eight pioneer. It meets the demand for the greater luxury of Straight-Eight transportation with two new and unparalleled Eights, perfected by more than a decade of eight-cylinder research and development.

In October came the first of these new Eights... the 100 horsepower Hupmobile revising all standards of motor car values in its power and price class. Then, in January, to crown the Hupmobile line with the finest car in its history, Hupmobile presented its second new Eight... the 133 horsepower Hupmobile... with a speed of 90 miles an hour.

In these new Hupmobiles, the Straight-Eight motor has been developed to its ultimate. Engineering tests and comparisons have shown it to be supreme in power. These are cars for the motorist who wants complete and incontestable mastery of the roads. With nothing left to be desired, in beauty of line and appointments, in riding and driving comfort, in range and flexibility of speed and performance. See them and drive them today.

Turning the light of Truth on false and misleading statements in recent cigarette advertising

WHAT ANOTHER MANUFACTURER of cigarettes chooses to say about his product is not our affair. Even when he sees fit to misrepresent his product and leave false impressions concerning it, that still is his business—not ours.

But—when, in his advertising, he goes beyond his own product and makes false statements or leaves misleading impressions about other cigarettes—then it is time that the truth be told.

Some time ago a manufacturer of cigarettes used the following statements in his advertising:

"The extra secret heating process removes from (——) harmful irritants, corrosive acids, which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way, and which cause throat irritation and coughing."

"No matter how much or how little you pay for cigarettes you have a choice of only two general classes, and not more than two. In one class you have the billions of cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way and in the other class you have (——), the toasted cigarette, a product of modern science, a cigarette from which harmful irritants have been removed by that extra secret process described by the phrase 'It's Toasted'."

WHEN THESE STATEMENTS were first made, we assumed that they were a casual phase of that manufacturer's advertising and did not represent a deliberate and calculated policy. After making a few such statements, he abandoned this particular form of advertising. However, other statements used in his advertising came to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission on a question of their truthfulness.

As a result of the action of the Federal Trade Commission he was ordered to stop his admitted practice of using in his advertising false testimonials of non-smokers to the effect that they kept slender by smoking his brand of cigarettes, and was further ordered to stop using other fake testimonials and the specious argument that all can keep slender by smoking that brand of cigarettes. He then began to use again the form of statement quoted above or variations of it.

IF ANY MANUFACTURER chooses to say that the tobaccos he uses contain "harmful irritants, corrosive acids, that are injurious to the throat," and then to claim that these things are removed by the heat-treating process, that is his own affair. But when he tries to create the impression that it is general practice to use in cigarettes such rank tobaccos as he describes, we object to the attempted reflection on the industry.

We have never used in our blend those rank tobaccos which can be properly described as containing "harmful irritants, corrosive acids," nor do we believe that they are used by some of the other manufacturers.

If that manufacturer wishes to advertise heat treatment, calling it toasting or what-not, that is his right. But when, in so doing, he tries to create the impression that he is the only maker of cigarettes who treats tobaccos with heat, the truth again needs to be told.

The publication of a fake testimonial is no greater perversion of the truth than to imply that the heat treatment of tobaccos is an exclusive process with any single manufacturer.

THE FACT is that the use of heat treatment in the manufacture of tobacco is about the most commonplace and universally practiced method in the industry. It has long been standard practice.

We use heat treatment in its most modern and scientific application, both in the preparation and in the manufacture of those mild, fragrant, ripe tobaccos that carry their natural goodness into CAMELS.

The first CAMEL Cigarette we ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of CAMELS produced since has been manufactured under heat treatment. We rely upon heat to the limits of its possibilities to make our good tobaccos better. It cannot make inferior tobaccos good.

WHETHER OR NOT a manufacturer, to have something to talk to the public about, attaches a contrivance to his heat-treating machines to catch, condense and bottle the vapors that come from them can have no more effect toward improving the tobacco than your catching and bottling the vapors that come from your teapot would have toward improving the tea in the pot.

Our own brand, CAMEL, continues to grow, but we are, nevertheless, unwilling to let these far-reaching false statements or impressions regarding the cigarette industry go uncorrected.

ERRORGRAMS

There's Scrambled

LEFT

No use trying this.

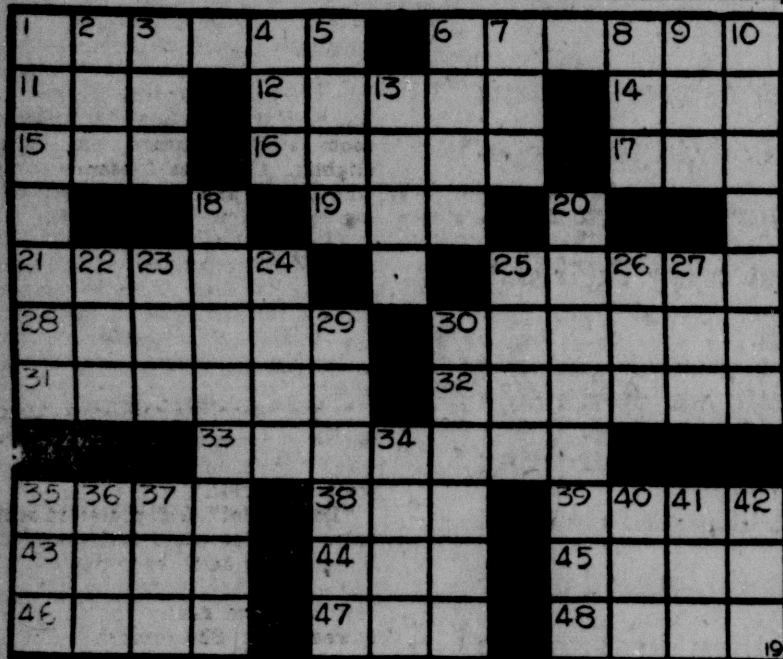

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistakes and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

TUESDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) A Windsor is a wooden chair with rod-like uprights in the curving back. (2) The table at the right is not a refectory table. A refectory table is a large rectangular dining table. (3) Red is not a complementary color to violet. The primary colors are red, yellow and blue and the complementary of any primary color is a combination of the other two primaries. (4) Complementary is spelled incorrectly. (5) The scrambled word is ACOUSTICS.

Decrease In Income Taxes Is Reported

Washington, March 19—(AP)—Income tax paid into the Treasury during the first seventeen days in March totaled $99,666,010 compared with $109,346,854 for the corresponding period last year.

The Treasury in making the announcement today said the figures represented those at the close of business March 17.

The receipts for March 17 were $32,158,048, while the corresponding day a year ago showed income tax receipts of $36,842,347.

LUMBAGO QUICKLY RELIEVED BY NEW KAVATONE

"Kavatone Ended All My Aches and Pains," Says Well-Known Jackson Resident.

One of the most amazing things about Kavatone is the great number of people who tell of getting excellent results from such a very small quantity.

Kavatone works hand in hand with nature in eliminating poisons from the system—and building up new reserve strength and not only does it banish ailments in most cases, but it banishes them permanently.

With an obvious effort Clorinda got control of herself, and answered almost calmly: "Mrs. Lambert, she was wondering aloud at the breakfast table whether Arnold had got word to Doris that he could not keep his appointment with her, or whether he had asked her to meet him an hour later than they had planned."

"Did Mrs. Lambert also know last night that Doris was to meet Arnold?"

"No, I contributed that bit of news myself this morning," Clorinda answered lazily. "We were all thrashing out the probabilities and possibilities—naturally."

"Naturally," Strawn agreed, his voice heavy with sarcasm.

"Now, don't be nasty!" Gigi warned, pretending to be about to choke him as she had threatened.

"I'll have to spank you yet," Strawn told her severely. "Well, Miss Clorinda, you two girls chatted together quite a lot last night, I suppose, as Doris helped you get ready for bed?"

"We talked—yes," Clorinda answered stiffly. "Doris and I are—very good friends."

"Talked about sweethearts and getting married, and things like that?" Strawn pressed gently.

"Every time I tried to stoop over I had a sharp cutting pain across my kidneys that almost took my breath away and I could hardly straighten up. My kidneys were weak and acted too freely. My stomach was no time in very good condition either and after eating I would have terrible dizzy spells and headaches. Needless to say I began looking for quick relief and when I began using Kavatone I found it. In just a few days my bowels were moving regularly, stomach pains were gone and I was no longer troubled with those dizzy spells. My kidneys were acting normal and the pains have left my back. Also, my neuritis in my shoulders and neck has almost entirely gone. There is no doubt about Kavatone being a wonder worker and I feel sure it will do for others what it has done for me."

Kavatone acts upon the human system in a way different from any previously known medicine. It is a liquid to be taken immediately after meals in order that it may work with the sufferer's own food. It contains the medicinal ingredients of 24 of the finest herb roots, barks and blossoms known to the medical profession. These ingredients act upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, restoring the entire internal system to normal conditions and healthy action. It is only natural that people who try Kavatone with such amazing and excellent results should be quick to offer praise of it in order that others who suffer may benefit by their experience.

Murder Backstairs

©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC

by ANNE AUSTIN

AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night after 11:30 in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by a blow with a heavy perfume flask, presented to Mrs. BERKELEY by SEYMOUR CROSBY. The body rock-weighted and tied with CLOTHES LINE, is taken from the lake Saturday morning by DETECTIVE BOB DUNDEE, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD (all under suspicion): Mr. and Mrs. George Berkeley, who have quarreled into Friday night over Clorinda's engagement to Crosby; close friend of the social secretary, Mrs. LAMBERT; GIGI BERKELEY, who is visiting all persons in drawing room Friday night with perfume from the murder flask, later placed in Mrs. Berkeley's bathroom by WICK-ETT, butler; DICK BERKELEY, who, after having been missing all night, turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, engaged to Doris, of having murdered Doris and Dick out of jealousy.

Mrs. Berkeley is forced to admit she snatched Doris while the maid was dressing her for dinner because Doris said she used too much perfume; admits also she instructed Doris to wait up for her but says Doris was not in her room when she (Mrs. Berkeley) went up to bed at 11:40. Roused print of Doris's mouth on bathroom mirror proved girl was there and that a struggle took place.

When Clorinda admits having seen Doris just before 11, Strawn asks: "Did Doris tell you that your brother had made her promise to meet him when the family was in bed?"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX

"DOES your silence mean yes, Clorinda?" Captain Strawn prodded relentlessly. "Doris did tell you that she had promised to meet your brother, and even then you knew there would be—trouble?"

"No, no! Doris did not mention Dick! . . . Oh, please!" The fragile dark eyes flew wide, pleaded desperately. "Tell me if that is true, or if you are just trying to trap me into an admission damaging to myself!"

Dundee had an unprofessional impulse to tell her the truth, to relieve her strange suspense by telling her that her brother had spent the night in the tower room, waiting for the girl who never came.

But Captain Strawn was answering her with a cruel evasion: "She'd promised to meet Dick, all right! We have two witnesses to prove it. . . . Now, you've said you didn't know until this morning that Arnold couldn't keep his date with Doris, because of taking the Smiths home. Who told you that?"

With an obvious effort Clorinda got control of herself, and answered almost calmly: "Mrs. Lambert, she was wondering aloud at the breakfast table whether Arnold had got word to Doris that he could not keep his appointment with her, or whether he had asked her to meet him an hour later than they had planned."

"Did Mrs. Lambert also know last night that Doris was to meet Arnold?"

"No, I contributed that bit of news myself this morning," Clorinda answered lazily. "We were all thrashing out the probabilities and possibilities—naturally."

"Naturally," Strawn agreed, his voice heavy with sarcasm.

"Now, don't be nasty!" Gigi warned, pretending to be about to choke him as she had threatened.

SPRING

Spring which the sweet poet spoke of: A bright wood-fire is sputtering within the grate. The last fresh stick lies upon its rosy bed, crackling and chirping away with as good a relish as if it wasn't Spring. Spring indeed? Hark! hear the hail and snow sift against the window panes? The wind is playing all sorts of pranks. It is peeping into all the cracks and rattling all the doors and windows; and when I look up to see what is the matter, it goes away whistling, just as if it wasn't him. Oh, the rage.

Spring is it? Where is the almanac? It must be that a winter day has got loose, and has slipped down into the wrong place. Something must be wrong. A screw must be loose somewhere in the weather-machine. Where are the spring flowers? Are they awaking from their winter's nap? Have they dared to peep out from under the great white coverlet that Dame Nature laid over them, and tucked up around them, when they grew weak, and pale, and cold last Fall? If they have, the violets must have tears in their blue eyes, as they look at the unpromising features of their old Mother. The little brooks have not yet dared to come out of their hiding places. And as for the spring birds, they must be sitting some where with folded wings and drooping heads, wondering what these great drifting, driving snow-storms are coming now for.

Spring is it? So the whole race of almanacs say, from the immortal Dudley Lettitt down through every shade and variety of medicine, sugar-coated, all-healing, Russia saive, and sarsaparilla. Surely, it must be so.

Spring indeed! It is a winter's night out of doors, a winter's fire blazing away before me, and the warm red flickerings over the wall and ceiling look as if it certainly was winter somewhere.

"Oh, backward, turn backward, oh time, in thy flight,
Gimme my un'wares just today and tonight.

The frost on the trees makes a pretty sight.

But give me my un'wares, I'm freezing tonight."

Mrs. Charles Florabelle Throop, Grand Detour, Ill.

OBITUARY

CHARLES S. HOUP

Charles Sheridan Houpt, next to the youngest of ten children of Henry and Lehan Houpt, was born in Middleton Valley, Maryland, April 29, 1868. When a young man, he came to Ogle county, Illinois, and lived with his sister, Mary, now Mrs. A. F. Fahrney. He was united in marriage to Ada Feary, of Pine Creek township, Dec. 20, 1901. He spent all of his married life in the vicinity of Woosung, except four years' residence near Dunkerton, Ia. He died at his home at Woosung, Mar. 13, 1930, aged 63 years, 10 months, 14 days.

He was the father of four children: C. Richard and Harry, both married and living near Polo and Woosung respectively; Florence and Roy, at home. These with their mother survive; also two brothers, Joshua of Dixon, and Martin of Jefferson, Md.; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Fahrney of Dixon, and Mrs. Anne Shultz of Mason City, Ia.

Of recent years, Mr. Houpt conducted a Pork Market from his home during the winter months, and so formed the acquaintance of many people, who came to have high appreciation of his reliability and jovial disposition. His death occurred instantly, by the accidental discharge of a small rifle, which he was handling at his home, on the above date; and was indeed, a blow of great grief to his family and many friends. As a sober, industrious, and thrifty citizen he had established through the years a most excellent name for honesty and uprightness of life, and his home and family enjoyed the same high regard and confidence from the community.

Funeral services were conducted from the late home and the Woosung Union Church, yesterday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock, in charge of B. H. Cleaver, pastor of Dixon Christian church. Miss Minnie Ziegler and Mrs. Lewis Scholl sang, with Miss Lona Parks, pianist.

The great esteem in which Mr. Houpt was held was manifested by the number in attendance at the funeral, nearly one-half of whom could not be seated in the church. Relatives from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. William Shultz of Mason City, Ia.; and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Waring of Boone, Ia. Pal-bearers were: Frank Wilson, William Otto, Roy Quaco, Edward Forrester, Lewis Ziegler and William Gates. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery, Dixon, and the ritual of the Woodman Fraternity was there read, since the deceased held membership in that organization.

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.
